Welcome to the Ardene Management Team!

We are so happy to have you on our management team! Being an inspiring leader means finding opportunities to motivate your team to excel, foster growth, encourage collaboration and create a healthy and productive work environment. We've designed this training as an interactive, interesting and stimulating learning experience that will provide you with the foundation needed to excel at Ardene and be the best leader you can be.

Training Expectations

- ☐ Ask questions when you don't understand
- ☐ Take notes and practice as much as possible
- ☐ Complete Ardene Campus lessons as instructed in your Trainee Guide
- ☐ Complete all activities outlined in your Trainee Guide and complete your Trainee Workbook
- ☐ Provide feedback and raise concerns as necessary
- ☐ Start using the tools as you learn about them (Mindful Moment Cards, Recognition Cards, etc.)

Tips for a Successful Training

1. Review your training schedule
 - Start off by verifying your training schedule with your Trainer and review the Training Calendar on page 3.
 - Speak with your Trainer about how to customize your training plan based on experience, skills, knowledge and schedule.
2. Manage your time
 - Even though your shifts are planned out, unexpected situations may arise and you may need to adjust your training schedule. Use the tools provided (calendar, shift checklists, etc.) to make sure you cover all the topics, achieve the learning objectives and get enough practice.
3. Check in with your Trainer
 - Don't skip the Daily Debriefs with your Trainer, this is a good time to ask questions and get the support you need.
 - Your Trainer will sign off on your shift checklists to ensure you have received all the necessary information.

Onboarding

Onboarding Shift 1

Job Description

EXERCISE #1

Take 10 minutes to write down what you believe are characteristics of a great manager. Discuss your answers with your Trainer and share examples of how you have demonstrated some of those characteristics in the past.

EXERCISE #2

Read and discuss the following questions with your Trainer. Take note of your discussion in the space provided below.

What expectations do you have of your training?

What expectations does your Trainer have of you?

What are you excited about? What are you anxious about?

We Are Ardene

EXERCISE #3

Answer the following questions:

At Ardene, our Values are part of everything we do. Which one resonates with you most? Why?

How will you lead your team using our values and help bring them to life in your store? Provide examples.

EXERCISE #4

Answer the following questions.

We use competencies to guide how we behave in our daily duties. Have you ever used competencies prior?

Looking at our competencies, which one do you believe is your strongest and which one would you like to develop more?

EXERCISE #5

Think of a previous leader who has inspired you in the past. What made them a great leader?

Now take a look at our leadership abilities. Which ability(ies) best represents the quality you identified above?

Which leadership ability feels most natural to you? Which one do you anticipate having to work on?

Policies & Guidelines

Notes

EXERCISE #6

What stands out for you about Ardene's policies?

How will you ensure your team is aware and up to date on all policies in your store?

Apply your knowledge: A new policy has been communicated by Head Office. How do you ensure that it is effectively rolled out in your store? And where do you go for additional information if you need clarification on the policy?

DAILY DEBRIEF

Before you speak with your Trainer, reflect on your experiences from today and answer the following questions. Use your answers to recap your experience and discuss with your Trainer.

What did you observe during the tour of the store? What were your impressions of the store layout, merchandise and/or customer experience?

In your own words, describe the difference between managing and leading a team.

How will you be a GREAT leader for your team?

Which tasks did you enjoy the most and which were the most challenging?

Do you have any other questions for your Trainer?

Daily Diary: Write down anything you would like to remember from your first day.

The Opening Shift

Opening Procedures

EXERCISE #8

Answer the following questions and discuss with your Trainer.

What were the most challenging parts of the opening? Why?

Ask your Trainer for the top three tips that they use to organise their day. Discuss and take notes below.

EXERCISE #9

The purpose of this activity is to practice responding to challenges that may arise during Openings. Read each scenario and write down the steps you would take to handle the situation. Discuss your answers with your Trainer.

Scenario 1: When you arrive to open the store, two people call in sick. It is Thursday and you just read a note from the closing manager saying that today will be busy due to a promotion that was implemented overnight to help drive sales.

Scenario 2: You are the opening manager. While completing your morning walk through you observe the store is not up to standards, the tables are messy, and the piles of sweaters are all mixed up. This shows that the Closing Checklist was not completed last night. The manager that closed is not in until later in the afternoon but one of the staff members from the closing shift is coming in at 11am.

Minute Meetings

 EXERCISE #10

The purpose of this activity is to prepare for the next Minute Meeting and think about how to motivate your team at the beginning of their shift. Answer the following questions.

What was covered in the last Minute Meeting you witnessed? Was it engaging? Why or why not?

Is there anything you would have changed? If so, what? How would these changes make the meeting more engaging or motivating? How would they help you or the team be more productive?

Discuss with your Trainer the best time for you to lead the next Minute Meeting and start thinking about what you would like to cover. Jot down any relevant information that should be shared with the team.

Now, pick 2 or 3 topics to focus on and make a plan for your Minute Meeting. Write your outline here and review it with your Trainer.

Dayforce, Payroll & Scheduling

EXERCISE #11

Your Trainer will go over the previous schedule they built and explain to you how they manage their wage costs, stay up to date on availabilities and what factors influence their scheduling decisions. Take note of important things to consider or remember.

Answer the following questions and discuss with your Trainer.

Why is it important to manage the weekly schedule well? What's the impact on your team? What are the risks of a poorly made weekly schedule?

Why is it important to forecast your sales correctly? What happens if you don't?

What steps should you take if sales are down and you must cut hours to meet your wage cost target?

Now, assist your Trainer in building the upcoming schedule.

Reminder: The schedule should be posted at least 2 weeks ahead of time.

Manager on Duty (MOD)

EXERCISE #12

Answer the following questions.

What behaviours do you think a successful MOD should demonstrate? List as many characteristics or competencies as you can think of.

Observe your team on the floor and look for customer service behaviours. Which ones are your team members doing well and which ones could they improve on? How would you coach them to improve?

EXERCISE #13

Read the scenarios provided and identify opportunities for improvement based on the customer service model. Then, explain how you would approach a coaching conversation with the employee and connect the customer service model to their performance.

Scenario	Opportunity for improvement	Coaching Conversation
The greeter is tasking and not welcoming customers into the store. Her back is to the front and she is taking tops out of a shipment box that she has been asked to process before the end of her shift.
The cashier is ringing through a customer when one of the other sales associates walks over to ask her a question about a specific promotion. The cashier stops speaking to the customer and helps the associate. You can see the customer's body language changing and you notice a line forming.

EXERCISE #14

Now it's time to put your MOD skills in practice.

Step 1 - Observations

Think back over the last few shifts and recall your observations of the MOD or your Trainer completing the following. Take a few mental notes to help you answer the next questions.

- ☐ Preparing the Planner and break schedule
- ☐ Managing the daily task list
- ☐ Reaching sales goals
- ☐ Forecasting and managing payroll hours
- ☐ Supervising daily tasks
- ☐ Coaching and motivating the team
- ☐ Leading by example

Did they do the following?

- ☐ Follow policy requirements for breaks while maintaining adequate floor coverage
- ☐ Adjust zone coverage as breaks are completed and as customer traffic patterns fluctuate
- ☐ Monitor the sales floor
- ☐ Give specific feedback to team members and recognize good performance
- ☐ Create an enthusiastic atmosphere and upbeat energy in store

Is there anything you would have changed? How would these changes help you or the team be more productive?

Step 2 - Practice

Spend the rest of your shift as MOD. If your team comes to you with questions or issues, try to solve them yourself. However, if you do need guidance, don't hesitate to consult your Trainer.

Step 3 - Review

Once you've had time to practice being MOD, see your Trainer to debrief for the day.

DAILY DEBRIEF

Before you speak with your Trainer, reflect on your experiences from today and answer the following questions. Use your answers to recap your experience and discuss with your Trainer.

How did you find the experience of being MOD? Did you face any major challenges? Identify your strengths and areas for improvement.

Explain how the MOD role influences the store environment.

What can you do to create an environment that inspires your team to stay customer-focused and follow the customer service model?

Which tasks did you enjoy the most and which were the most challenging?

Do you have any other questions for your Trainer?

Daily Diary: Write down anything you would like to remember from today.

Closing Procedures

EXERCISE #17

Ask your Trainer for the top three tips that they use to prepare for the close. Discuss and take notes below.

EXERCISE #18

The purpose of this activity is to practice responding to challenges that may arise during closes. Read each scenario and write down the steps you would take to handle the situation. Then discuss your answers with your Trainer.

Scenario 1: You are closing the store and you discover that there is a negative cash draw of $22.15. The manager who opened the store has gone home for the day.

Scenario 2: It's Friday evening and it's been a very busy day. You have exceeded your sales goal and recognized your team for doing a great job but you know there is still work to do to complete the close. It's very important to ensure the store is ready for business for the next day and you realize that two of the three people you have working the close after such a busy day are new! However, looking at tomorrow's schedule you see that there is an experienced team of people opening in the morning.

Now use the Closing Checklist to help your Trainer complete the close.

DAILY DEBRIEF

Note: Since this shift includes a close, it may be difficult to meet your Trainer at the end of the day. If this is the case, simply complete this Daily Debrief and the shift checklist at the start of your next shift.

Explain Ardene's policy towards Loss Prevention and your responsibility as a leader in preventing theft.

How confident are you on the APOS? What do you need more practice with?

How comfortable do you feel calculating and tracking the different KPI's? What do you need more practice with?

What did you find most challenging about closing the store?

How do you use the Binder? How often?

How often is the Binder updated? What is the process?

EXERCISE #24

How did refreshing the display impact the visual presentation?

How can you ensure that the team is routinely refreshing displays?

How to Integrate New Products

EXERCISE #25

Ask your Trainer the following questions and take note of their answers.

What are your top 3 tips to keep in mind when integrating new products?

How can you adjust presentations based on the level of inventory?

EXERCISE #26

Step 1 - Plan

Your Trainer will give you a specific area to merchandise. Review the area you are assigned to and determine the steps and estimated time required to execute the project efficiently.

Step 2 - Discuss

Share your detailed plan with your Trainer and adapt the strategy based on the feedback received.

Step 3 - Execute

Execute the task by following the established plan.

Step 4 - Review

Once the task is completed, review the result with your Trainer and answer the following questions.

Did the original plan lead to the desired outcome, within the expected timeframe? If not, why? What would you do differently or more efficiently next time?

DAILY DEBRIEF

Before you speak with your Trainer, reflect on your experiences from today and answer the following questions. Use your answers to recap your experience and discuss with your Trainer.

Why is it so important to refresh and maintain your displays?

Which tasks did you enjoy most and which were the most challenging in your execution of the visual merchandising?

What did you find most challenging when coaching your team or delegating visual tasks? Were all instructions understood correctly? Did the final result reflect your vision? If not, what would you do differently?

Do you have any other questions for your Trainer?

Daily Diary: Write down anything you would like to remember from today.

Merchandising Visual Binder, Continued

EXERCISE #27

Fill out the questions below as you read through the binder.

Section B - Windows

1. Why is it so important to step out of the store after executing window changes?

2. What are 3 criteria to consider when choosing replacement outfits if your store does not carry items presented on mandatory mannequins?

3. What step can you take in ensuring your suction cup has good stability in your window?

Section C - Walls

1. At what height should the 4x4 sign holders be presented?

2. Name at least 2 types of hardware used in wall presentations.

3. Name 1 way you can adapt walls when your store has high inventory?

4. View the different types of commodity walls. Name 2 things they all have in common.

5. Name one way to maximize a footwear wall when you have low inventory.

6. When should "Sale" signage be used?

Section G - Floor fixtures

1. In your words, what is the purpose of an In-Queue-Line?

2. Where can you view directives for merchandising the shoe pole?

Section H - Marketing on Floor Fixtures

1. Where should you place the sign holder in groups of 3 grids?

2. Where should you place the sign holder in groups of 2 grids?

3. How many sign holders should be placed on groups of 2 nesting tables?

4. Name 2 things that should be placed at the cash desk.

Launch Packages & Updates

EXERCISE #28

Your Trainer will give you the latest Launch Package, a copy of the store's floor plan and any related memos or operations newsletters. Read the Launch Package, then tour the store and observe how the original package compares to how it was executed in the store. Use the floor plan to identify the different wall presentations and answer the questions below.

Which parts of the Launch Package were similar to the in-store execution?

Which parts were executed differently?

If there were any updates following the Launch Package, were they executed properly? If not, what was missed?

After, review your observations with your Trainer. Ask them the following questions and take note of their answers.

What steps did you take to adapt this launch to your store?

What is the most challenging part of adapting Launch Packages to this store?

How did you ensure to keep the store presentable, safe and customer-ready during the changes?

Price Changes

EXERCISE #29

Ask the following questions to your Trainer and take note of their answers

How frequently does your store receive price changes?

What do you find most challenging when managing price changes?

What are your best tips for planning the execution of price changes?

Building Walls

EXERCISE #30

Now that you are more familiar with visual presentation standards and how to adapt them, tour the store and pick a wall presentation that needs to be refreshed. Using the latest wall directives, analyse the presentation and answer the following questions.

Step 1 - Observations

How would you describe the theme of the wall?

Do you feel that the styles displayed in the wall respect the theme of the presentation? If not, why?

Does the structure of the wall support the level of product inventory? If not, why?

Step 2 - Plan

What changes can you make to ensure that the styles displayed respect the theme of the presentation?

What structural changes should be made to support the level of product inventory?

Is there anything else that should be adjusted to create a stronger visual impact?

Step 3 - Execute

Review your plan with your Trainer and adjust according to the feedback received. It's time to bring your vision to life! Refresh the presentation by executing the plan.

Step 4 - Review

Review the final result with your Trainer and discuss how these changes impacted the overall visual presentation. Answer the following questions.

Did the original plan lead to the desired outcome, within the estimated timeframe? If not, why? What would you do differently or more efficiently next time?

Visual Action Plan

EXERCISE #31

Step 1 - Visual tools

Review the list of tools at your disposal to execute visual and marketing directives below. If you still have questions about any of them, discuss with your Trainer until you feel comfortable.

- Merchandising Visual Standards Guidelines & Merchandising Visual Binder
- Webportal memos, Launch Packages, operations newsletters and other communications
- Floor Plans

Step 2 - Identify

Using the tools above and any other instructions from Head Office, tour the store and indicate which tasks need to be completed for each section found in the Merchandising Visual Standards Binder.

General Information

Windows

Walls

Tables

Folding

T-Stands & Grids

Floor Fixtures

Step 3 - Plan

Using your notes above, put together a comprehensive visual action plan for the rest of the week, specifying what needs to be done and when. Make sure your plan is realistic and in line with the store’s needs and resources! Don’t forget to consider priorities, staffing needs, wage costs, daily schedule, individual visual knowledge and/or training of the staff, price changes, shipments and product moves.

Step 4 - Review

Review your plan with your Trainer and make adjustments as necessary.

 DAILY DEBRIEF

Before you speak with your Trainer, reflect on your experiences from today and answer the following questions. Use your answers to recap your experience and discuss with your Trainer.

How can you ensure that visual presentations are well maintained and refreshed on a regular basis?

Which tasks did you enjoy the most today, and which were the most challenging?

What did you find most challenging when coaching your team or delegating visual tasks? Were all instructions understood correctly? Did the final result reflect your vision? If not, what would you do differently?

Do you have any other questions for your Trainer?

The Recruitment Shift

Intro to Recruitment

EXERCISE #32

Have you ever been responsible for recruiting team members for your location? If so, what was your biggest learning from that experience?

Ask your Trainer the following questions and take note of their answers.

What are the specific challenges with recruitment at this location?

What are your best recruitment tips?

How do you manage hiring needs to ensure your team is always complete and ready to handle upcoming peak sales periods?

Planning for Recruitment

EXERCISE #33

Read the following scenario and, using the information from the store you're training in, complete the exercise.

It is currently the month of May. You are able to maintain your wage cost based on sales and your team's availability. However, school will soon be out for the summer and you anticipate more traffic in the upcoming weeks. How many hires do you need for the summer?

1. Determine the total number of hours to schedule

$$\frac{\text{Projected Wage Cost} \times \text{Target Sales}}{\text{Average Salary}} = \text{Total number of hours to schedule}$$

Psst! Remember, wage cost is a percentage!

Ex. A projected wage cost of 14% should be entered as 0.14 in the equation

Projected wage cost for your store: _____

Target sales: _____

Average salary: _____

$$\frac{(\text{Projected Wage Cost}) \times (\text{Target Sales})}{(\text{Average Salary})} = (\text{Total number of hours to schedule})$$

2. Determine the number of hours to fill

$$\text{Hours to schedule} - \text{Hours for current management} - \text{Hours for current FT \& PT} = \text{Hours to be filled}$$

Hours to schedule: _____

Hours for current management:

Nb of management employees × Avg weekly hours = _____ × _____ = _____

Hours for current full-time employees:

Nb of full-time employees × Avg weekly hours = _____ × _____ = _____

Hours for current part-time employees:

Nb of part-time employees × Avg weekly hours = _____ × _____ = _____

As a general rule, the average weekly hours should be as follows:

Store Manager & Assistant Manager	37.5 hours
Key Holders	30 hours
Full-time Sales Associates	30 hours
Part-time Sales Associates	15 hours

However, these can be adjusted to reflect the reality in your store.

$$\begin{array}{ccccccc} & - & & - & & = & \\ (Hours\ to\ schedule) & & (Hours\ for\ current\ management) & & (Hours\ for\ current\ FT\ \& PT) & & (Hours\ to\ be\ filled) \end{array}$$

3. Determine the number and types of hires needed

Now that you know how many hours need to be filled, determine which jobs are needed by asking yourself the following questions:

- 1) What type of positions support my store's needs? Full-time/part-time? Seasonal/permanent?

- 2) How many positions do I need?

- 3) Is there any internal potential?

- 4) Did I communicate the store's needs to my District Supervisor?

EXERCISE #34

Answer the following questions related to candidate attraction.

Recall your last job search experience. As a candidate yourself, what did you look for in a potential employer? What convinced you to join the Ardene team?

What are the different job boards and career sites available in your city or area? List as many as you can think of.

What are the potential pitfalls of posting on these different platforms yourself?

Ask the following questions to your Trainer about how best to attract candidates for this particular location. If you will be working in a different location, take note of your Trainer's answers and reflect on how you can adapt them for the location where you will be working.

What sourcing channels work best to attract candidates for this city/area?

If you need your jobs posted on websites other than our career site, reach out to your District Supervisor.

Gr8 People

EXERCISE #35

Step 1 - Review

Answer the following questions:

1. When opening a new job, which option from the "Add" menu should you select?
2. Who is the recruiter assigned to your region?
3. For your location, who is the Hiring Manager on all jobs?
4. What's the difference between opening a new job versus adding a position to an existing job?
5. What does it mean when you have jobs under "Pending Approval" on your dashboard?
6. Where can you view the reason(s) for which a candidate was rejected in the screening questionnaire?
7. How do you add a lead?
8. What is the difference between a closed and a cancelled job?
9. How many levels of approvals should be selected for Sales Associates & Stock Clerk offers? Who should be the approver(s) on these offers?
10. How many levels of approvals should be selected for Third Key Holder and Third Key Holder Visual offers? Who should be the approver(s) on these offers?
11. What steps should you take when a candidate rejects an offer?
12. What are the onboarding documents that new hires must complete after accepting their offer?
13. What are the last steps required to close a job?

Step 2 - Practice

Practice the following on the Gr8 People training site*:

1. Log in to the training site using the credentials provided.
2. Identify how to open a new job from catalog. Browse through the templates available and identify which one(s) apply to your location.
3. On your dashboard under "Open", select one of the available jobs and add a position to this job.
4. Remove the position from the job.
5. Choose a different job on your dashboard under "Open". Within the pool of candidates, select one and:
 - View their availabilities
 - Check which other jobs this candidate has applied to
 - Move them through all screening steps including "Create Offer." Enter some key information to complete the offer and select the appropriate approver(s).

Please note there might be slight differences between the training site and the actual Gr8 People site in terms of layout, parameters and information available.*

Phone Screening

EXERCISE #36

Recap in your own words the main criteria we are looking for in a potential Ardene hire.

Recall your last job interviews and write down 2 behavioural-based questions you have been asked in the past:

1.

Now ask your Trainer the following questions and take note of their answers.

How do you know when you have found the right candidate?

What are your top “Do’s & Don’ts” for interviews?

EXERCISE #37

Using the behavioural interview questionnaire and all the steps you have learned, practice interviewing your Trainer. The interview should last about 15 minutes. During the process, take notes of your observations and your Trainer’s answers. Once the interview is over, discuss your observations and concerns with your Trainer. Would you hire the candidate? Why or why not? After the interview, debrief with your Trainer.

Scenario Details:

- The open position is a full-time Third Key Holder role.
- The candidate has previous key holder experience for a retail competitor.
- The candidate has a 6-month gap between their last 2 jobs.
- The candidate has not completed high school.

Evaluation Grid (to be completed by Trainer):

Criteria	Not completed / Does not meet expectations	Coachable	Meets Expectations
Did the Trainee introduce themselves?
Did the Trainee confirm your availability?
Did they gather enough information to determine if you meet our values and competency expectations?
Did they ask behavioural questions?
Did the Trainee ask about the 6-month gap?
Did the Trainee ask any discriminatory questions (ex. Age, sexual orientation, religion, etc.) ?
Did they give you the opportunity to ask questions?
Did they thank you for your time?

Employee Turnover

EXERCISE #38

Answer the following questions about the link between effective management practices and turnover.

What causes employee turnover?

What do you think are some of the direct and indirect costs of turnover?

How does good recruitment impact turnover?

What other actions can you take to manage turnover and keep your team engaged?

Review your answers with your Trainer and take note of any other ideas they may have.

DAILY DEBRIEF

Before you speak with your Trainer, reflect on your experiences from today and answer the following questions. Use your answers to recap your experience and discuss with your Trainer.

What is the importance of recruitment and how can it impact store performance?

How does the Ardene recruitment process differ from your previous recruitment experience or expectations?

Which tasks were the most interesting to you and which were the most challenging?

Do you have any other questions for your Trainer?

Daily Diary: Write down anything you would like to remember from today.

The Leadership Shift

Motivation

EXERCISE # 39

Step 1: Strategies

Ask your Trainer the following questions and take note of their answers.

What do you do to motivate and retain your team? What works best?

How often do you recognize your team for their achievements? Do you praise them verbally or with a Recognition card? Do you praise them individually or in front of the team?

How often do you coach your team and provide constructive feedback? What is the most common topic that you need to provide coaching on?

Step 2: Recognition Cards

Take a moment to write 2 Recognition Cards, present them to 2 different team members and answer the following questions:

How did they react? Was it a positive experience?

How will you keep the S.T.A.R. program alive in your store?

Conflict Resolution

 EXERCISE #40

Read each scenario below and write down how you would address each situation, then review your answers with your Trainer.

Scenario	Policy or Resource for Reference	How would you address this situation? What tools are available to help you?
A customer comes into your store to return an item. Your team member explains our return policy but the customer quickly becomes aggressive. Your team member gets mad, is rude to the customer and walks away. After serving the customer, you must address this situation with your team member.
Two members of your staff are friends and go to school together. They went out to the movies over the weekend and got into a fight, and it is now affecting the energy in your store. Both associates are ignoring each other, and they refuse to collaborate. Colleagues and customers are starting to notice...
Head Office has just announced a new onboarding program for associates. You think that your Third Key Holder would be a great Mentor so you sit down with her to discuss the new program. The conversation does not go as expected; she becomes visibly upset and exclaims, "I've trained new hires before! What's wrong with the way I was doing it?"

Change Management and Mindfulness

EXERCISE # 41

Step 1: Strategies

Ask your Trainer the following questions and take note of their answers.

What was the last big change that you had to implement? How did your team handle it? What did you do to ensure the team felt confident with the change?

How do you help your team cope with stress?

Step 2: Mindful Moments

Read the Mindful Moments Cards. Choose two exercises to practice and answer the following questions:

How did you feel before doing the Mindful Moments? How did you feel afterwards?

How will you keep mindfulness alive in your store?

Mental Health at Work

EXERCISE #42

Answer the following questions.

What was most surprising or interesting to you from this specific training?

What do you commit to doing to take care of your own mental health?

What do you commit to doing to take care of your team’s mental health?

Employee Performance

EXERCISE #43

Read the scenarios below and determine next steps to take to address each situation. If applicable, indicate the reference tool you will use. If a PIP or BOP are appropriate, fill one out and discuss notes with your Trainer.

Scenario	Policy or Resource for Reference	Next Steps
Amanda is a full-time Key Holder that has been with Ardene for 9 months. She is normally very reliable and hard-working but on Monday she was 10 minutes late because she missed her bus. She took a taxi to get to work instead.
Jamie is a full-time Sales Associate and has been with the company for 4 months. When walking into the backroom you hear Jamie gossiping about one of the key holders and mocking their accent. The other associates present are clearly uncomfortable, but no one is saying anything. Jamie has read the Code of Conduct on the Campus and is well aware of our company policy regarding respect.
Kim is a part-time Sales Associate and has been with the company for 5 months. She had never worked in retail before but said she was eager to learn. Despite several coaching conversations, her customer service is not up to standards. While being available for customers when they walk up to her, she does not approach them herself to offer her help. She is also inconsistent in greeting customers at the front of the store.
Pat has been on your team for 2 years and continues to be a top performer. Pat has been somewhat distant for the past couple of weeks and is shying away from customers. You tried reaching out to him last week, but he brushed you off and said everything was fine. During the past 3 days, the situation has worsened to the point that he has become impatient with customers. This has caused a customer to send an official complaint to Head Office.

DAILY DEBRIEF

The Admin Day Shift

The Admin Day

EXERCISE #44

Reflect on your experience since the beginning of your training. What tools have you noticed your Trainer use to stay organized and keep the store up to standards?

Next, ask your Trainer the following questions:

What is the most challenging aspect of keeping the store and the team organized?

What are your best tips for organizing yourself for the week?

Planning for the Week Ahead

EXERCISE #45

Step 1 - Assess

Complete the remainder of the WSA, taking notes as you go along in your Planner.

Step 2 - Identify Upcoming Tasks

Make a list of any additional upcoming or scheduled tasks that will also need to be completed this week.

Suggestions of tasks to consider:

- Incoming shipments
- Visual, marketing and price changes
- Recruitment needs and actions to be taken
- Action items from Webportal communications and messages
- New employee admin and onboarding
- Upcoming Ardene Campus releases
- Other tasks assigned to you by your District Supervisor

Step 3 - Create a Weekly Plan

It's now time to create a plan for the week. Using your WSA notes and your list of upcoming tasks, assist your Trainer in creating this week's plan in the Planner, determining what needs to be completed each day.

Step 4 - Create a Daily Action Plan

Using what you have identified for today in your weekly plan, create an action plan for the rest of your shift and review it with your Trainer. Discuss how you will complete, follow up on or delegate each task.

DAILY DEBRIEF

Before you speak with your Trainer, reflect on your experiences from today and answer the following questions. Use your answers to recap your experience and discuss with your Trainer.

How did the WSA help you recover the store and build your weekly plan?

Did you accomplish all of today's tasks in your action plan? What went well? What would you do differently?

What are the impacts of poor or lack of planning?

Which tasks do you feel most comfortable with? Which do you feel the least?

Do you have any final questions for your Trainer?

Daily Diary: Write down anything you would like to remember from today.

The Performance Shift

Omnichannel

EXERCISE #46

Based on what you've learned about omnichannel, answer the questions below about each journey.

Ship from Store

How does Ship from Store benefit the customer?

What are the short- and long-term impacts of not fulfilling orders in a timely manner?

Save the Sale

How does Save the Sale benefit the customer?

In what situations or areas of the store do you think customers would be more open to ordering in store?

Pick up in Store

How does Pick up in Store benefit the customer?

How could you use Pick up in Store to increase sales in your own store?

Customer Loyalty

EXERCISE #47

Reflect on your experience as a retail customer. Are you part of any loyalty programs at other retailers? How did you hear about these programs? Why did you sign up? How has your shopping experience improved since being part of these programs?

How does customer loyalty benefit our business as a whole?

How does customer loyalty benefit your store specifically?

How does customer loyalty benefit the customer?

What are the potential pitfalls of not promoting our loyalty program?

EXERCISE #48

Step 1 - Observations

Observe how other staff members capture customer loyalty in the store. Take notes of your observations below.

Step 2 - Brainstorm

Now, come up with other ways to ask for a customer's information in various areas of the store, keeping best practices in mind.

Step 3 - Practice

Using your ideas above, spend some time practicing different approaches to capture customer information. Take a mental note of the success of each approach and adjust as needed.

Step 4 - Debrief

Answer the questions below.

Which approaches worked best, and why? What didn't work so well?

What was most challenging about this exercise?

How can you improve going forward?

KPI's

EXERCISE #49

Go back to Exercise #16 from the Closing Shift and review KPI results for that day.

Did the store meet the sales target for that day?

If $1 was added to each transaction, how would it have impacted sales?

How would the new sales results have impacted wage cost for that day?

Now reflect on how the factors listed above affect the different KPI's. Be as specific as possible.

Comp: What factors influence sales?

UPT: What factors influence UPT?

APT: What factors influence APT?

WC%: What factors influence WC%?

SPH: What factors influence SPH?

Now reflect on the role of your team in achieving KPI's. According to you, what are the benefits of involving your team in achieving KPI targets?

How can you make sure your staff feels included in the process?

EXERCISE #50

Using this week as a reference, review Comp Sales and KPI results.

What were the total sales?

How many units were sold?

What was the total number of transactions?

What was the APT?

What was the UPT?

What were the total hours and wage cost?

Now retrieve sales results for the current week so far. Take note of the following.

How does this week's traffic compare to your comp week at the same time? Are the total transactions trending higher or lower?

When traffic is lower, what actions should be taken to achieve sales targets and maintain wage costs?

How are this week's KPI's trending compared to your comp week? What is influencing them?

In the event that your sales are trending much higher than your comp, how should you react or adjust for the remainder of the week? For next week?

In the event that your sales are trending higher, identify the possible reasons for this increase, and how you can maintain this momentum. Can you set a higher target for yourself and attain it?

Objectives

 EXERCISE #51

Step 1 - Review

Review our annual Corporate Objectives from the Drive for Results lesson.

Step 2 - Observations

Since the beginning of your training, what behaviours or actions have you observed that directly support our Corporate Objectives?

Step 3 - Identify

Choose 1 objective under each pillar and set 1 goal to help achieve it.

Pillar 1: _____

Corporate Objective 1: _____

Store Objective 1: _____

Pillar 2: _____

Corporate Objective 2: _____

Store Objective 2: _____

Pillar 3: _____

Corporate Objective 3: _____

Store Objective 3: _____

Step 4 - Make it SMART

Choose one of the store objectives created above and explain how it's SMART:

Specific: _____

Measurable: _____

Attainable: _____

Relevant: _____

Timely: _____

Step 5 - Actions

Now, create a list of actions that will help you achieve your store objective.

DAILY DEBRIEF

Before you speak with your Trainer, reflect on your experiences from today and answer the following questions. Use your answers to recap your experience and discuss with your Trainer.

What is the importance of the Omni journeys for the Ardene customer?

Why is it important to set larger organizational goals?

How did using the SMART model help you communicate objectives to your team?

Which tasks did you enjoy the most and which were the most challenging?

Do you have any other questions for your Trainer?

EXERCISE #52

Now that you’ve had time to reflect on your entire training, review the list of topics below and rate your level of understanding/mastery, using the scale below.

Legend:

Green	I feel confident about this topic/task. I have a complete understanding of it and can execute it with little to no assistance.
Yellow	I feel moderately confident with this topic/task and can execute it with some assistance. I’d like to revisit this item or would like additional practice.
Red	I don’t fully understand this topic/task or don’t feel comfortable executing it. I need a lot of assistance with it. I need to revisit/practice it.
